PINK RIBBON DAY

Jones faculty members, including curriculum facilitator Natalie Hopkins (right), and grandparents, moms, aunts and others gather in the cafeteria to enjoy the Breast Cancer Survivors' Celebration Breakfast on Nov. 3.

Buy a Chick-fil-A calendar to benefit fifth-grade trip

To raise money for its annual trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, the fifth-grade class is selling Chick-fil-A calendars for $10.

You can buy them at the front desk as well as in the car rider line at pickup on various days.

Register the card that comes with the calendar, and you will receive an email for one free item each month. All the profits go toward the fifth-grade field trip to Williamsburg in the spring.

Want to help spread holiday cheer?

If you're willing to sponsor a family within the Jones community for Christmas, please contact Ms. LeGrande at legrani@gcsnc.com.

It works like an Angel Tree gift, you buy the presents on a child's wish list (it's often clothes, new shoes or a warm coat), and turn them in to

Ms. LeGrande, who distributes them to the families in need.

Also don't forget that the Jones food pantry and clothing closet is in full swing. Donations are always welcome, and pantry hours for student/family access will be 2:30-4 p.m. Wednesdays.

Box Tops, Labels for Education earn money for class prizes

Thanks to everyone who submitted all those Box Tops from specially marked Box Tops for Education products. For our fall submission deadline, we turned in 4,286 Box Tops, which will earn the PTA more than $420.

We'll have another round of collections in the spring, and the classroom that has submitted the most for the entire school year will win a special party and prize for the teacher. In the lead so far are Sra. Oroña's fourth-grade class, the office staff, and Sra. Cline's third-grade class.

We are also collecting Labels for Education. Any of those labels need to be turned in by Dec. 20 to be counted, as the program is ending in early January.
